ARVADA

Arvada is a city of over 107,000 people, land area of about 20,872 acres (32.6 square miles) located in the Northwest part of the Denver Metropolitan area, is Colorado's 7th largest city, and sits at the foot of the beautiful Rocky Mountains. Arvada history goes back to 1850 when the Cherokee Indians found gold in Clear Creek, but they were not interested in the gold. In 1852 a wagon train came through heading to California with a man named Lewis Ralston who found about $5.00 of gold in a stream that was later named for him in the Arvada area. Mr. Ralston returned to this area in 1858 to pan for gold but did not find much. In 1863 a man by the name of B.F. Wadsworth settled on land just to the east of the Olde Arvada Town area of today, and was the person who helped to get established its first General Store, and encouraged a blacksmith to move here. Bridges were built and in 1870, the Colorado Central Railroad was built that linked the town with Denver, which was about 12 miles away. And because the town needed a name to receive mail, Mrs. Wadsworth named the town after her brother-in-law, Hiram Arvada Haskins.

Arvada was a great place for growing grains, vegetables, and small fruits, celery, tomatoes and peas. Arvada became known as the Celery Capital of the World. Even though the Town of Arvada was established in 1870, it was not incorporated until 1904. Today you can do a walking tour of Olde Town Arvada and still see some of the original buildings with all kinds of shops to shop or eat in.

Arvada not only has lots of history, it was recently named the 12th safest city with a population of 75,000 or higher in America. It is approximately a 45 minute drive on I-70 to Denver International Airport. There are 38 elementary, Middle, High Schools, Charter Private, and Parochial schools within Arvada. There are 17 Colleges and Universities within a close radius. We have more days of sunshine than Miami or San Diego with 76 parks, hiking trails, 2000 acres of open space, three golf courses, plus many recreation centers, etc. Arvada has its own Police Department employing more than 200 people.

The Arvada Chamber of Commerce was established in 1917 as the outgrowth of an earlier civic club and still a very active and prominent organization of the community. For more information please phone Arvada Chamber of Commerce (303) 424-0313 or visit our web site at www.arvada-chamber.org

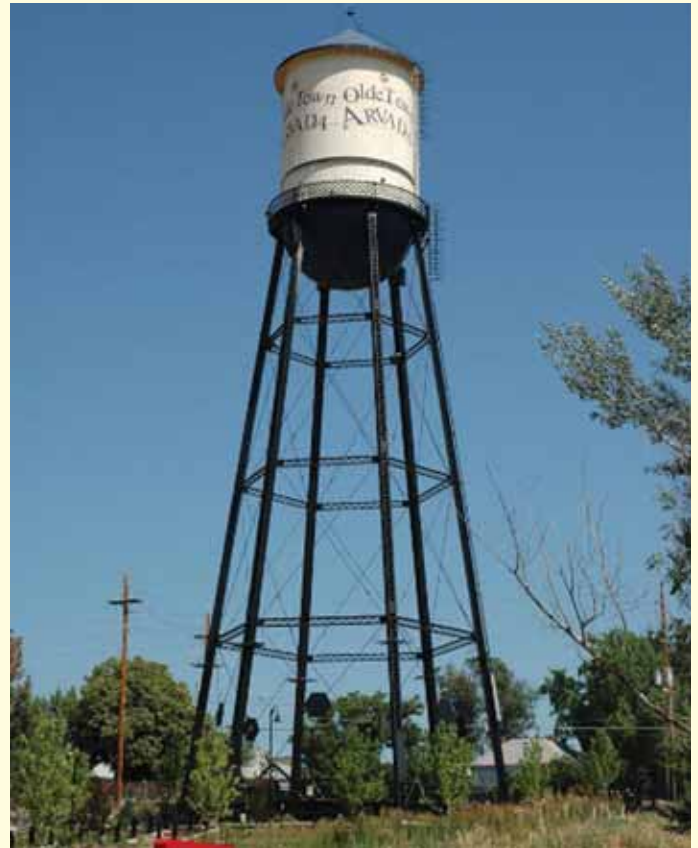

AURORA

Located just minutes away from Denver Int. Airport, off I-70.

Sweeping fairways, blue waters and a spectacular mountain backdrop greet visitors to Aurora, Colorado's third largest city.

The strategically located city serves as the gateway to the Rockies, flanked by the E-470 toll way loop to the east and I-70 to the north and with I-225 flowing north-south through town. Given this simple mobility, a vast array of recreational, cultural and dining amenities are within easy reach. Aurora's many accommodations, conveniently situated throughout the city, offer a place to stay for every taste and budget.

Recreational enthusiasts can take a dive, hop aboard or sink a line at the 820-acre Aurora Reservoir. Supreme greens await golf aficionados at Aurora's seven nationally acclaimed championship municipal courses. Catch the thrill of fast-pitch softball and championship soccer at the 212 acre Aurora Sports Park or watch the BMX, in-line and skateboard wheels roll at the Aurora Wheel Park.

BOULDER

Located 35 miles northwest of downtown Denver and 45 minutes from Denver International Airport.

Boulder is nestled at the foot of the majestic Rocky Mountains, a captivating mountain community enriched with natural beauty and diverse cultural delights.

Boulder has a dynamic economy, an award winning University, and a vibrant love of the outdoors. Populated by approximately 95,000 residents, Boulder is the eighth largest city in the State with an elevation of 5,430 feet above sea level. Boulder is commonly referred to as the little town nestled between the mountains and reality, a saying originating from the quality of life enjoyed by residents and visitors alike.

Residents enjoy four distinct seasons, 300 days of sunshine per year and the daily splendor of infinite Colorado blue skies. Heading into the city, the University of Colorado (CU) dominates the landscape with its red sandstone buildings and impressive architecture. Just beyond the campus, you'll find Pearl Street, the heart of the city in historic downtown Boulder.

walking mall known for its local flair and quirky, fun atmosphere.

You would be careless not to grab a mountain bike or pair of in-line skates and venture down the Boulder Creek Path. This cherished recreational outlet spans 16 miles alongside Boulder Creek, the main artery flowing through town. On any given day, you can spot kayakers paddling, tubers floating and fly-fishermen rejuvenating in the Creek's splendor.

Don't forget to stop along the path to experience the visual wonder and craftsmanship of the Boulder Dushanbe Teahouse!

It's the only authentic, hand-made Persian teahouse in the Western Hemisphere and a gift from Boulder's sister city in Tajikistan.

For those wanting to discover Boulder's natural wonder, head up to Historic Chautauqua Park, one of the many gateways to over 200 miles of serene hiking and biking trails and 30,000 acres of unspoiled open space.

One can meander through Chautauqua's meadow or hike to the top of the Flatiron Mountains, whose rock faces abound with rock climbers testing their skill.

Boulder is a town that comes to life each day and night much like other metropolitan areas, but with a unique, small town feel found only in Boulder. Come and rejuvenate yourself. Let our community embrace you with our arts and culture, smiling faces and healthy lifestyle.
