the The Crane House Museum, and across the street the Harrison Building, constructed in 1917 has been renovated and houses an eatery, water craft rental service, gift shop, salon and design studio and art gallery that represents the works of numerous Northwest artists. Relax at the city park in the town's historic district overlooking the lake, where musicians entertain on stage during community events.

In the early 1900s, Harrison was a main port for the big passenger steamers that navigated Lake Coeur d'Alene. The community remains a port, but now for the many pleasure boats that ply the water on the southern end of Lake Coeur d'Alene.

Kayak, canoe and powerboat rentals are available along with skis and tubes. Visitors can arrange for guided flat-water kayak tours on nearby lakes, including overnight camping trips. Activities in Harrison include water sports, and bird watching at the adjacent Thompson Lake Wildlife Refuge where nesting osprey are abundant.

The general store includes a deli and bakery where fresh bread and sweets are prepared daily.

Community celebrations are scheduled throughout the summer and fall, starting with the June Bug Craft Fair & Pig in the Park and ending with Winterfest the second Saturday of December.

HAYDEN LAKE

Located four miles north of Coeur d'Alene on U.S. Hwy. 95.

Both Hayden Lake and the town which bears its name draw visitors year-round. While the lake provides adventure for fishermen and swimmers through its camping, boating facilities and beaches, the town of Hayden Lake provides for those 'relaxing' needs with everything from groceries and gasoline to fine restaurant meals.

KELLOGG

Located about 70 miles east of Spokane, WA and 35 miles east of Coeur d'Alene.

Tourists visiting Kellogg can look forward to many attractions. Kellogg is home to Silver Mountain and the World's Longest Gondola, Idaho's oldest standing building, the Staff House Museum and the Crystal Gold Mine Tours.

In Kellogg, winter means downhill skiing, snowshoeing, and cross country skiing. Silver Mountain boasts some of the West's premier terrain along with a family tubing park.

Silver Mountain features 2,200 vertical feet of skiing across some 1,500 acres of terrain. The mountain's seven lifts access 53 runs ranging from wide open terrain for beginner and family skiers to challenging powder runs for intermediate and advanced skiers. During the summer season, (June through September) tourists can journey through one of the many distinct museums that the area offers.

The City of Kellogg joins Silver Mountain for the Village

Lighting Festival with caroling, old fashioned sleigh rides, a miners' breakfast and torch-light parade.

The Trail of the Coeur d'Alenes has become a destination for visitors from around the US. The 73 miles of paved path travels through the Silver Valley giving riders and walkers a view of the area scenery unavailable from I-90. The Trail of the Coeur d'Alenes remains groomed for snowshoeing and cross country skiing all winter long.

The Staff House Museum is the Shoshone County Mining and Smelting Museum that offers mineral exhibits. Bunker Hill Mine exhibits an art gallery and gift shop. In summer, Silver Mountain features weekend barbecues and picnics on the deck. At Silver
